Department: CommunicationsTo the La Salle Community

The Pennsylvania Humanities Council invites you to attend a live taping of Humanities Live: "Best Seller Cinema" on Friday, May 4 featuring distinguished La Salle professor Bill Wine. "Best Seller Cinema" will discuss the difference between the reading and viewing experiences and analyze the ways in which classic and modern novels have been "translated" into blockbuster films. Topics of discussion will include Gone with the Wind, To Kill a Mockingbird, The Godfather, the Harry Potter series and more.

Bill Wine served for twelve years as the movie critic for Fox Television in Philadelphia and is currently the film critic for KYW Newsradio. In addition to having his written works appear in publications including the Philadelphia Inquirer, Daily News, and Village Voice, Wine is also a produced and published playwright.

Don't miss this opportunity to catch La Salle's own Bill Wine as he untangles the ever complex and fascinating relationship between literature and film. To reserve your free seat for this exciting new PHC program, visit <http://www.whyy.org/artsandculture/> or call 215-351-0511. Registration begins at 5:30 p.m. All tapings run from 6:00 – 7:30.
